Dulles Has Plan Two-Stage Idea May Form Coalition

Washington, May 7 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles has developed a two-stage program for organizing an anti-Communist coalition in southeast Asia and hopes it will produce a provisional arrangement in a matter of weeks.

Dulles is due to hold a series of diplomatic discussions here shortly for the first stage of negotiations. Officials said today it seems certain to begin with a multi-national military staff conference.

The military conference, and possibly a diplomatic one, would be designed to produce a provisional security arrangement to stand until later second-stage talks eventually resulted in a formal security treaty.

A minimum of 5 and a maximum of 10 or 12 countries could be represented in the first conference. Authorities said the British have agreed to cooperate, and they termed this a forward step. Previously the Churchill government had withheld joining in Dulles' proposed "united action" pending efforts for an Indo-China peace settlement at Geneva.

Dulles will report to the nation by radio and television tonight at 8:30 EST on Indochina and on other subjects, notably the Korean peace deadlock, with which he dealt at Geneva last week with allied nations and the Communists.

Dulles conferred with President Eisenhower at the White House for more than an hour this morning. He told newsmen afterward that they had discussed tonight's speech.

Asked about reports that he was working on what a newsmen termed a compromise solution of the Indochina problem, Dulles laughed and replied:

"There are so many stories that if I commented on them all I wouldn't have time to write my speech."

His 30-minute talk will be carried at the time of delivery by ABC TV networks and by NBC CBS and Mutual radio networks. Rebroadcasts will be carried by NBC-TV at 10:15 p. m. CBS at 11:15 p. m. and by ABC radio at 11 p. m.

Advance information was that Dulles would emphasize his and President Eisenhower's resolve—despite disappointments so far—to form a united front with friendly nations aimed at saving southeast Asia from Communist conquest.

Then, aides said, Dulles will talk in the next few days with

Then, aides said, Dulles will talk in the next few days with diplomats of a number of countries which could be included in the alliance, particularly about the subject of military negotiations. Informants said it had not been settled just what countries would be included, and they emphasized that the conference is still only a proposal subject to revision.

In general, it is likely that such a meeting would discuss arrangements for the defense of southeast Asia, including such portions of Indochina as could be considered subject to security guarantees by nations not actively engaged in the Indochina war. France and the Indochinese states are the only nations so engaged.

Dulles is reported to have told a group of congressmen Wednesday night that the United States has little hope of taking any effective action, on a united front basis, in time to strengthen Viet Nam against Red pressure. He was said to have discussed a possibility of making any security pledge applicable to Laos and Cambodia, which have not been as heavily involved in the seven-year fight against Communist-led forces.

Laos and Cambodia have about 4½ million people to Viet Nam's 22 million.

Senator Is Ordered to Drop Word

Jenkins Takes Resolute Stand With McCarthy on Statement About Army Charges

Washington, May 7 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy today denounced one of the original army charges against the McCarthy camp as "this lie" but was ordered to withdraw the word.

Ray H. Jenkins, special counsel to the Senate Investigations Subcommittee, sternly told the senator his language was improper in a question to Secretary of the Army Stevens.

Chairman Mundt (R-S.D.) ruled McCarthy could ask whether the charge was "true or false."

The charge, originally put out by the army but not included in the formal army bill of specifications for the McCarthy-Army hearings, was to the effect that Roy M. Cohn was so "upset" by army handling of Pvt. G. David Schine he could not attend a luncheon on Dec. 10. Cohn is general counsel to the McCarthy subcommittee.

McCarthy said Cohn had "exploded that lie" in telling about the matter on a TV program. He asked Stevens whether it was not true that Cohn did not attend the luncheon because Cohn's father was ill in New York.

Attended by McCarthy

The luncheon, at the Carroll Arms Hotel here, was attended by McCarthy, Francis P. Carr, chief of the McCarthy committee staff, and Stevens.

Stevens testified the charge was not "false." He insisted Carr had told him at the luncheon that Cohn was very upset about Schine.

This particular charge was included in a "Chronology of Events" in the Schine case prepared by the army and given to some senators. McCarthy charged the chronology was "leaked" to Joseph Alsop, syndicated columnist for the World Herald Tribune, weeks earlier.

McCarthy again mispronounced the columnist's name, "Alslop."

McCarthy told Stevens at one point that "I think 95 per cent or more that is going on here is not your fault."

"I'd like to know who has been showing you into this," McCarthy added.

Stevens said: "Nobody is showing me into" criticism of McCarthy.

"Then you are personally responsible for the charges against Mr. Cohn, Mr. Carr and me?" The Wisconsin senator asked.

"Some of them," Stevens replied.

Has Expressed View

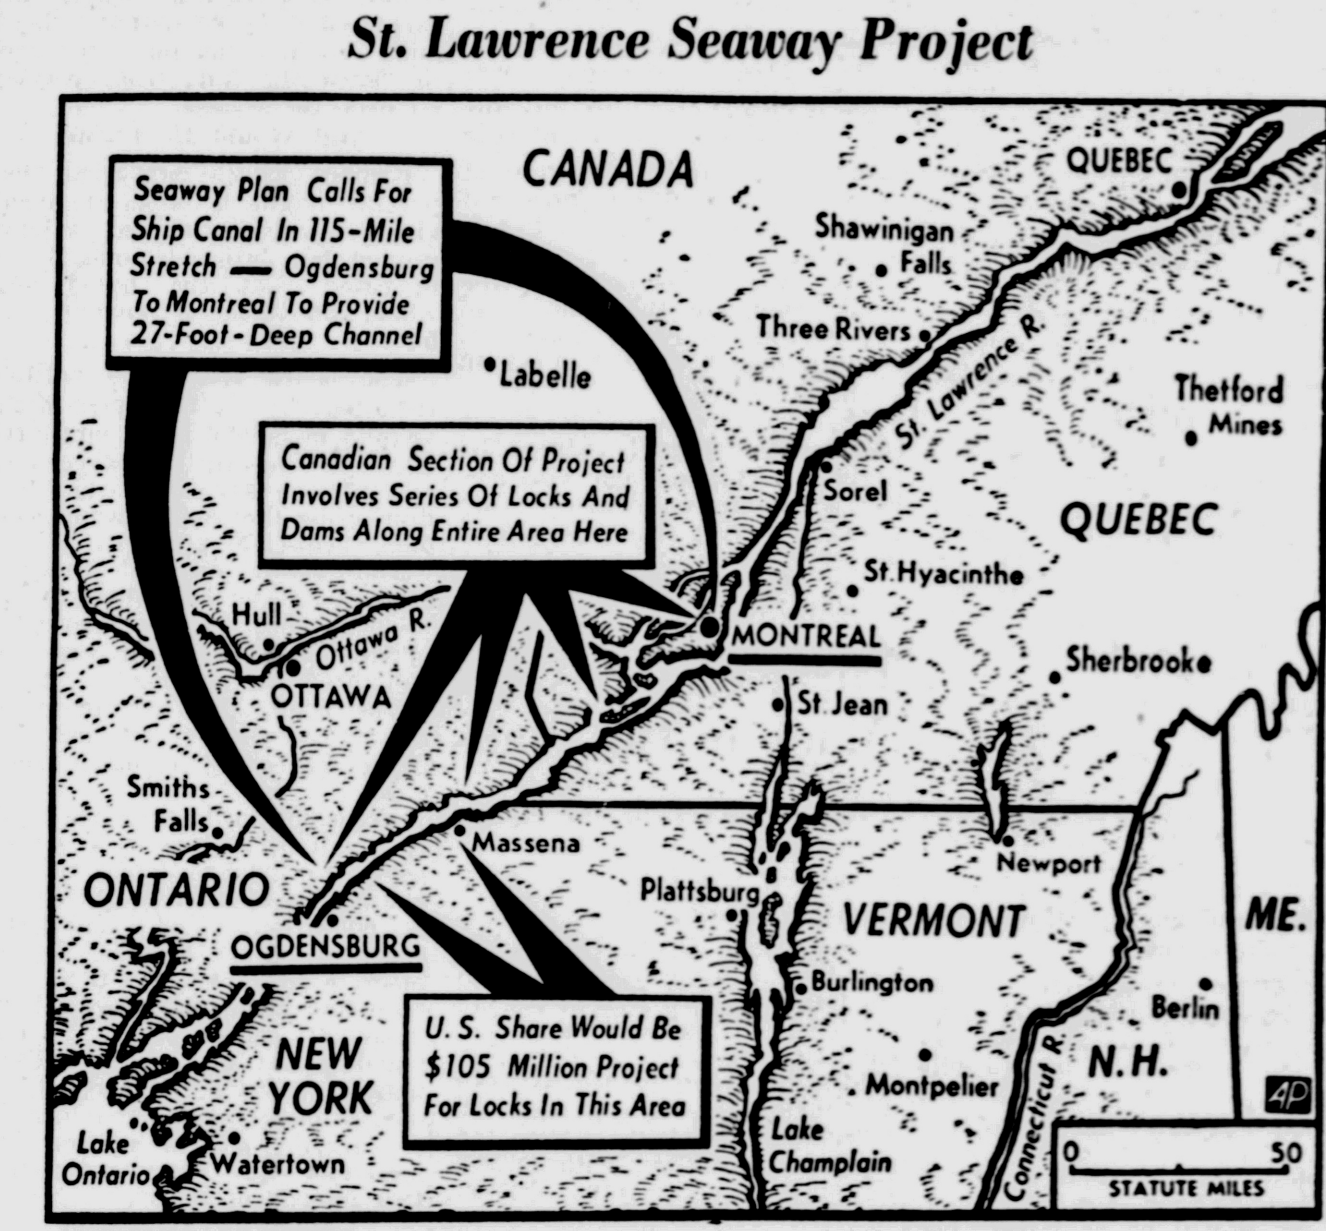

McCarthy several times has expressed the view that Stevens is being "used" by others in their controversy. He once called Stevens a "dupe" and referred to him yesterday as a "tool."

A point of possible explosion as the hearings moved into this 12th day was an assertion by Sen. McCarthy that "I don't intend to" keep secret purported FBI data on security risks at Ft. Monmouth, N. J., unless FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover adds his veto to that of Atty. Gen. Brownell.

Brownell ruled yesterday that a document, which McCarthy says he got from an intelligence officer, makes unauthorized use of secret material and should not be made public.

McCarthy told reporters he would not be bound by Brownell's opinion but had so much respect for Hoover that he wouldn't go against the FBI chief's wishes.

Rebel Units Smash Nam Barricades

Men by Thousands Hit Three Sectors in Pinch Move Appearing to Be Supreme Drive

Paris, May 7 (AP)—Premier Joseph Laniel announced today that the central fortress of Dien Bien Phu has fallen.

The announcement came on the heels of reports from Associated Press correspondent Larry Allen in Hanoi that hordes of screaming Vietnamese rebels had swept over the outer ramparts of the central defense points.

The fortress had stood siege for 57 days but last night's massive wave of rebels, outnumbering the estimated 12,500 to 15,000 defenders at least six to one, proved too much.

Premier Laniel made the announcement to the national assembly in the midst of a discussion of routine legislation.

Attack Is Reported

Hanoi, Indochina, May 7 (AP)—Vietnamese infantrymen smashed through Dien Bien Phu's constructed barricades today in a fourth mass assault and quickly overran the southwestern defenses. They often outnumbered French union defenders 10-to-1.

The Communist-led rebels attacked by the thousands on three sectors—the southwest, east and northeast—in a pincer operation that appeared to be their supreme bid to wipe out the bastion before the Geneva conference gets around to trying to settle the Indochina war by negotiation.

(The French News Agency said the Vietnamese had captured four of the nine remaining strongpoints around the fortress and were menacing a fifth. Premier Joseph Laniel's cabinet was called into emergency session in Paris to consider the crisis.)

170th Day of Siege

It was the 170th day of rebel encirclement of the stronghold in northwestern Indochina; the 57th day of siege battle.

The rebels' three-way strike again reflected the coaching of their Red Chinese military advisers and technicians. At all points, the human wave system was used to make up in manpower the French advantage in firepower. Bugle calls and screams mingled with the rum of rifle shots, grenades and mortars.

Economic Picture Gives Way to Probe

Top Business Assemblage Engrossed in Talk of Stevens' Fate

Hot Springs, Va., May 7 (AP)—Top men of business today found the economic outlook "encouraging" but the Washington political scene—as reflected by the Army-McCarthy dispute—little short of "deplorable."

Economies took a back seat temporarily as 100 industry leaders, members of the business advisory council of the Commerce Department, talked over the fate of another member, Secretary of the Army Stevens.

Stevens was expected to arrive later today, with Mrs. Stevens, to join his council colleagues during a brief respite from his day-after-day testimony before the Senate investigations subcommittee.

The Army Secretary was sure of a rousing welcome on arrival. He is a former chairman of the blue-ribbon organization of industrialists which advises the government on business matter, and his tribulations were the topic of every lobby conversation.

Says All Offended

"This crucifixion of Bob Stevens has offended everyone here," said Sidney Weinberg, a vice chairman of the council and senior partner in Goldman, Sachs & Co., New York investment house.

Other council members, speaking to reporters but unwilling to be named, called the televised battle between Stevens and Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), "outrageous," "lamentable," and "an unfortunate spectacle."

Although the council is largely Republican in political sympathies, some members said they felt Stevens was the victim of an administration attitude of "ap-peasement" toward McCarthy.

Others said Stevens had not received sufficient backing or "protection" from the executive branch in resisting what they called "interference" and "shabby treatment" at hands of the congressional anti-subversive probes.

Anticipate Slow Climb

At a 2½-hour preliminary session yesterday, the council's 15-member committee on economic policy heard an exchange of views which, informants said, boiled down to approximately this:

The business decline seems to have touched bottom, at least for a time, and may start a slow climb. It has gone somewhat farther than council members foresaw six months ago when, at their fall meeting in Pebble Beach, Calif., they forecast a drop of approximately 5 per cent in industrial output. The decline from the 1953 peak has been about 10 per cent.

Charles Vermilyea Has Fractured Skull; Three in Hospital

Four Saugerties men were injured, one fatally today at 7 a. m. when their car was in an accident near Gersh's Garage a mile north of Highland on Route 9W.

Charles Vermilyea, 24, who with the others was taken to Vassar Brothers Hospital, Poughkeepsie, died there at 10:25 a. m., of what Coroner Francis J. McCordle of this city said was a fractured skull.

The three other injured men are Arthur Krause, 49, driver of the car; Alfred Iannone and Gerald Overhag.

The four were enroute to jobs at the IBM plant in Poughkeepsie.

Struck by Trailer

According to state police, Krause's car was struck by a south-bound trailer, driven by Floyd Deyo, 19, of Catskill.

The troopers said Krause's car was stopped, parked partly on the highway, to pick up another rider, and apparently the truck driver failed to observe the auto.

The car was struck on the left rear portion, the police said, and the passenger about to enter it was not injured.

Coroner McCordle is withholding his verdict until a complete investigation of the accident (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

Idleness Declines 260,000 in April, First Since Fall

Mitchell, Weeks Release Data Available to Two Top U. S. Agencies

Washington, May 7 (AP)—The government reported today unemployment declined 260,000 in April, the first jobless drop since last October.

Employment increased by nearly half a million in the month.

The encouraging job report was issued jointly by Secretary of Labor Mitchell and Secretary of Commerce Weeks in a new combined release of data available to both departments.

In their joint announcement the two cabinet officers said that not only did employment increase and unemployment decline in April, as measured during the week ended April 10, but "there was evidence that unemployment continued to decline as the month progressed."

Unemployment was reported at 3,725,000 or 280,000 less than the 3,725,000 jobless counted in March. Employment increased by 498,000 between March and April, rising from 60,100,000 to 60,598,000.

$350,000 Fire Reported

Valley Stream, May 7 (AP)—Fire and an explosion of an oil tank today caused an estimated $350,000 damage to an oil burner repair plant here. A number of firemen were overcome by smoke, and some were cut and bruised. The fire was discovered in the plant of Sid Harvey, Inc., 100 E. Mineola avenue, by Nassau County Patrolman William Smith. His alarm brought Valley Stream Hewlett and Woodmere firemen, who fought the blaze for several hours. The fire was confined to about half of the building. Sid Harvey, of Smithtown, owner of the plant, gave the estimate of the damage. The plant employs 250 men and women.

Race Track Probe Group Says Its Work Completed

Albany, May 7 (AP)—The Moreland Act Commission probe of scandals at the state's harness racing tracks is closed.

In a final report to Gov. Dewey, the four members of the commission said today they had completed their job and asked to be relieved of their duties. The governor is certain to comply.

The task of policing the 250-million-dollar-a-year sport is now to George P. Monaghan, the "czar" appointed by Dewey to rule the sulky tracks "with an iron hand" and rid them of hoodlums. New laws arm Monaghan with sweeping powers over all phases of harness racing.

The report itself was a skeleton review of the commission's seven-month inquiry into charges of labor racketeering, extortion, suspicious financial deals and political influence at the sulky tracks. The bulk of the material previously had been made public.

Disclosures made prior to and during the commission's public hearings echoed in the halls of the Legislature, shook the state's political organizations and turned the scandals into an issue for the 1954 gubernatorial campaign.

The commission listed as its accomplishments:

1. A thorough study of the books, finances, records and operations of every harness track and harness racing association.

2. Recommendations to replace the former three-member, unpaid harness racing commission with a single commissioner, give him broad power over the sport, and increase the state's share of the "take" from pari-mutuel betting by about six million dollars a year.

3. An investigation of whether Judge Norman F. Lent of Nassau county held an interest in a firm that printed programs for Roosevelt Raceway. Lent, a Republican, said he had sold his stock in the firm before he became judge. He was re-elected after the inquiry.

4. An investigation of the health and welfare fund of Local 32-E, Building Service Employees Union, which represents more than half the workers at Yonkers Raceway. That probe has been taken over by the State Insurance Department.

5. An inquiry into how many officers and employees of the state government held any interest in harness racing associations. One appointee of the governor was found to hold stock in the Algam Corp., a real estate organization that owns Yonkers Raceway. Two state employees were found to own stock in racing associations. A new law requires all three to dispose of their holdings.

6. Successful defense against all legal challenges to the powers of the commission.

Last Test Is May 20

Washington, May 7 (AP)—Selective Service today reminded college students the last educational draft deferment test for this school year will be held May 20. Those who have not taken one of the previous tests will have until May 10 to apply for the last one. Officials emphasized that students must have certificates of admission to get into the testing centers. All local draft boards are required to reopen and review educational deferment cases at the end of each school year. Deferments for the following school year may be granted to students who maintain specified class standing or make a score of 70 or better on the test.

Land Is Returned

On Thursday, April 29, the voters of the Willow School District decided to convey the school building to Samuel B. Eighmey, his heirs and assigns, for the sum of $1. building and installation of new equipment at the equalizing reservoir at an estimated cost of $60,000 and the replacement of pipe in the area of the Benedictine Hospital, at an estimated cost of $21,000. Chlorination equipment has already been installed at the equalizing reservoir in preparation for the summer demands on the water system. Cloonans said. Education Board playground facility on the grounds devoted to the physical education and rules committees for study and report.

In this connection the board took cognizance of a communication from Corporation Counsel James A. Abernethy advising that a playground would be a serious liability, if not supervised by trained personnel and properly and adequately insured.

The board appeared to be in substantial agreement with the opinion but expressed regret that the facility apparently could not be made available at the present time.

President Clarence S. Rowland pointed out that $255 worth of windows had been broken in School No. 2 several years ago but that the boys responsible and their parents had appeared before the board and full restitution was made.

It was "disappointing" to him, he told the board, that something could not be worked out legally and expressed the hope that the "legal mind" could figure out some way to "keep the kids from playing all over the streets."

Still Would Be Liable
Richard Kalish suggested that parents might be able to supervise the activities at such a playground, but Attorney Louis Bruhn indicated that the board still would be liable if anyone was hurt.

The board received a petition from parents and taxpayers of the vicinity of School No. 2 on May 22 requesting such a playground and offering assurances that children using the facility would conduct themselves properly. The board directed Superintendent Arthur J. Laidlaw to forward a copy of the Abernethy opinion to the person who had submitted the petition.

Must Be Agreement
A freshman who is enrolled for voice training during the first term may be placed in choir the second term if his academic work is satisfactory and there is a mutual agreement between the music teacher and the guidance director.

Students entering in September, 1954, will be limited to four academic subjects during the following year (1953-54) unless they maintained an average grade of 80 per cent. Students having no subject with an average below passing.

Rowland announced that he had received a call from Mayor Frederick H. Stang reporting that the Art Students League, which operates a summer school in Woodstock, desired to award two scholarships to Kingston High School students. The board directed the superintendent to acknowledge.

The board authorized the superintendent to advertise for bids for alterations and additions to the electrical system. Sealed proposals will be received by the board until 11 a. m. Tuesday, May 25.

Resignations Accepted

The following resignations were accepted effective June 30, 1954: George Drach, auto mechanic; Douglas L. Elson, commercial department; Dolores Filardi, physical education department at the Myron J. Michael School.

The board approved Dr. Irving J. Josephson's attendance at the New York State School Physicians Conference at Lake Placid on June 7 and 8 and the attendance of George A. Whitford, attendance supervisor, at a conference sponsored by the State Department of Education at Lake Placid on May 16 and 17.

Application of Dorothea G. Flick for a maternity leave of absence for the period May 1, 1954, to June 30, 1956, was approved and Vivian A. Burke was given probationary appointment as a teacher in the physical education department at a salary of $3,200 effective September 1, 1954. Eda Kapp Nussbaum was given probationary appointment as a teacher in the elementary schools at a salary of $3,200 contingent on her attending summer school and completing not less than six semester hours of study.

Probationary Appointment

Jean Trombley was given probationary appointment as a teacher in the elementary schools at a salary of $3,950 effective September 1, 1954. She has a B.E. degree from New Paltz State Teachers College in 1948 and six years teaching experience at the Napanoch Union and Central School. A resolution that all boys in interscholastic sports be insured in the New York State High School Athletic Protection Plan, Inc., on condition that lists of individual insurers must be submitted within five practice days was approved. Kingston Coal Co. was awarded a contract for 365 tons of pea coal at $14.90 a ton and Edward T. McGill a contract for 170 tons of No. 2 buckwheat coal at $13.09 per ton. A contract for supplying approximately 260,000 gallons of No. 3 fuel oil for the school year July 1, 1954, to June 30, 1955, was awarded to R. K. Ballard, Inc. of Kingston and A. R. Newcombe Co. of Kingston at their guaranteed price of .087 per gallon, each firm to supply 50 per cent of the fuel oil. A contract for art supplies for 1954-55 was awarded to the J. L. Reds Capture . . .

ported the new breach in the crumbling defenses at noon. The attack on the fortress had been renewed just before midnight last night, after a two-day lull in the rebels' all-out infantry charges.

The French command said crack rebel shock troops hit the northeast, east and southwest sides of the hard-pressed fortress, now shrunken to less than a mile in diameter.

Fighting On All Sides

Bloody hand-to-hand fighting raged on all sides as the French lashed out with bayonets in desperate counterattacks to push back the rebels.

A French army source said tersely, "there is close combat everywhere." The thrust from the southwest took an entirely new direction toward the underground command post of the garrison's commander, Brig. Gen. Christian De Castries. By French admission, the Vietminh at their closest were only 600 yards from the heart of the fortress, and little more than 100 feet from the outer barricades. With such a short distance to De Castries' headquarters, it looked like a do-or-die bid by Vietminh Commander Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap to crush the stubbornly defended fortress.

The French command in Saigon announced that a Flying Boxcar exploded yesterday on a supply mission over Dien Bien Phu, killing its two U. S. civilian pilots and the French crew chief aboard. (The pilots, employed by the Civil Air Transport (CAT) in Hong Kong, were identified as Wallace Abbott Buford, 28, of Ogdon, Utah, and James B. "Earthquake McGoon" McGovern, one of the best known of the Far Eastern Airline fliers. The cause of the explosion was not known but Saigon sources speculated it might have been due to Vietminh anti-aircraft fire).

Barrage Laid Down

As the waves of yelling Vietminh flung themselves at the main camp, the rebel artillery laid down a murderous barrage on the "Isabelle" south of the main fortress. Isabelle's guns, previously had been a major deterrent to attack from the south.

Prior to the attack, the rebels worked feverishly last night extending their winding network of fox holes and trenches to within 100 yards of the barbed wire barricades protecting the French defenses.

To breach the barbed wire entanglements and pave the way for their infantry, the Vietminh sent in "volunteer for death" squads armed with containers of nitroglycerine.

Rebel mole men preceded the attack, burrowing through the mud and popping up inside the barbed wire. The French had sounded the alert for the coming attack yesterday, when a command spokesman here in Hanoi announced that the rebel mortar and artillery fire had again stepped up and the Vietminh "everywhere are within grenade-throwing distance."

Financial and Commercial

New York, May 7 (AP)—The stock market continued its string of almost unbroken advances today.

The rise in the early afternoon again took the list on average into new high ground for the year and to the best levels of the past 24 years.

Gains ran to around 2 points at the outside. Losses weren't concentrated in any particular area. Trading expanded as prices moved higher and hit a pace better than two million shares for the day. That compares with 1,990,000 shares traded yesterday.

Among better acting major divisions were the motors, steels, railroads, oils, and radio-televisions. Others were steady to mixed.

TOO REGULAR

How far can a politician with good conscience carry the idea of political regularity? This is certainly a question which deserves investigation.

In an important campaign for party nomination for the Senate in a midwestern state one of the parties referred to the other as a man of "shoddy reputation" in political and business deals. In his vigorous campaign he has peppered his opponent with charges of inefficiency and inability. Yet questioned as to what course he would follow if his opponent won the primary he said that he would support him.

Without a feeling of loyalty to the ideals of a political party our two party system of government would collapse. But such loyalty is certainly strained to the breaking point when a man who has attacked the "shoddy reputation" of his opponent can find it in his heart to support that man.

Students of politics all agree that it would be easier to elect good men to office if all voters paid more attention to primaries. When voters in large numbers ignore primaries the influence of the political machines increases proportionately. Yet when there appears to be little real difference between the men contending for the nomination, the indifference of the voters, while impossible to justify is at least understandable.

A new gadget, worn like a wrist watch, times a golfer's swing and helps him to improve his game. Nothing has yet been devised, however, to make certain that a dufer will hit what he is swinging at.

CHOU EN-LAI'S ABSURD BIDS

Foreign Minister Chou En-lai of Red China got the Geneva festivities off to a bumping start by stating demands on Asia which the West cannot possibly agree to.

He wants the West to get out of Asia altogether, to abolish all foreign military bases, withdraw all troops and stop remilitarizing Japan. He offers, in other words, a perfect prescription for the Communist capture of the Orient.

Since Chou En-lai understands very well that the West will not meet these absurd demands, why is he bothering to make them?

Obviously he is thinking of the propaganda effect, for one thing. It is no secret that the Western powers are not popular in Asia, even when they appear there in defense of Asian liberties. Everything they do is tainted with the memory of colonialism.

The Communists, as we all know, have for years shrewdly exploited anticommunism and all the awakening urges of the long dormant Asiatics. Chou En-lai plays on this theme with a call for an all-Asiatic mutual security pact. "Asia for the Asiatics" is the slogan.

The only trouble, of course, is that he doesn't mean Asia for Asiatics—just some. He means Asia for Asiatic Communists, allied with the Soviet Union not in up-lifting but exploiting the Asian masses.

The great difficulty in dieting is that it interferes with a fellow's eating.

It was charged at Geneva that the United States has pursued an aggressive policy against Red China. If this is so, closing a window in a storm constitutes aggression against the rain.

JUST IN CASE

Ever since the outbreak of World War II, the stockpiling of essential materials has been a commonplace of sound defense policy. Now we seem to be going a step further—the stockpiling of factories.

Recently, the Ford Motor Company unveiled a complete "packaged" tank factory worth $40 million. In a one-story building, properly dehumidified and put under guard, are stored 5,500 items of machinery, tools, gauges and blueprints. All are so carefully catalogued that changes in tank design could be incorporated quickly into the lay-away plan.

This is not the first time war plant machinery has been stored, of course. But it is the first time, a complete, self-contained factory

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THEY HAVE TROUBLES TOO

Apparently the Russians have their troubles too. Comrades P. Plotnikov and A. Lipatov wrote in "Pravda":

"Comrade Stalin teaches that it is necessary: To remember and never forget that as long as there is capitalist encirclement there will be saboteurs, wreckers, spies and terrorists sent to the Soviet Union's home front by intelligence agencies of foreign states, to remember this and to wage a struggle against comrades who underestimate the importance of the fact of capitalist encirclement, who underestimate the forces and significance of sabotage."

The reason for all this is that somebody is stealing documents. Plotnikov and A. Lipatov charge that the spies and saboteurs who steal documents and give them to Americans. To quote them further:

"With these aims, the imperialists expend tremendous sums on intensifying subversive activity in the U.S.S.R. and the people's democracies. As is known, the American government officially allocated $100,000,000 in 1951 to finance the operations of spies, saboteurs and wreckers in the U.S.S.R. and the people's democracies."

The Russians do not have Congressional committees and there is nobody like Joe McCarthy around to arouse the workers and peasants, but the Russians do arouse the populace to spy on the spies. This is not a new approach to the subject because even in old Czarist days, many people spied on their neighbors and were well rewarded. In the early Bolshevik days, children were encouraged to spy on the bourgeois kulak parents. But this passage of Plotnikov and Lipatov does sound almost like something that one of us of the anti-Communist movement might have written:

"Each Soviet patriot—worker, collective farmer, member of the intelligentsia—considers it his duty, if he sees an enemy, to help the workers of state security to catch that enemy. Thanks to the vigilance of Soviet patriots in the years of the great patriotic war and in the postwar period, many spies, saboteurs and murderers who made their way into our country were exposed and disarmed."

It appears that G. L. Zaslavsky, assistant chief of the Geology Ministry's department of records of reserves, which is a big name for stockpiling, took home a word of records and permitted them to pass through his hands. No apparatus is named similar to the Fuchs-Rosenberg operation at Los Alamos or the Rosenberg operation at Fort Monmouth, but the nation is warned about security risks.

Look at what they say about the scientists: "Some comrades who are engaged in scientific research are thoughtless in utilizing secret information and try to show off with it in their writings, thereby harming the cause of preservation of state secrets. That is what N. G. Kazhlayev, formerly assistant chief of a chief administration of the Ministry of the Oil Industry, did. He used secret data without the knowledge of the ministry officials and published them in his dissertation. It must be borne in mind that the ministry uses the slightest loophole, any bit of carelessness, to cause harm and to do his dirty work. Talkativeness, criminal carelessness in safeguarding secret documents, tolerance of instances of moral corruption—the infuriated and cunning enemy tries to utilize everything."

This might be a suggestion to Senator McCarthy, when he resumes his investigations. Are they subversive or just showing off? That is altogether a novel explanation—a scientist likes to write dissertations as a columnist likes to write columns. It is a way of telling the world that he is also among the living. Is showing off a criminal offense? Instead of pleading the Fifth Amendment, a scientist might say: "When I gave away the secrets of the hydrogen bomb, I wasn't subversive; I was only showing off."

Plotnikov and Lipatov article. It reads so like here at home:

"We have another enemy besides the enemy's agents—the gullibility of our people. We have developed many gullible and careless people. It is the gullibility and carelessness of our people which constitutes nourishing soil for spies and saboteurs. As long as we have gullible and careless people there will be reactionaries. That means that to sabotage it is necessary to put an end to gullibility and carelessness in our ranks."

They have fellow travelers and innocents, too. But somehow they win all the conferences in spite of all that.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

CROUP—LARYNGOTRACHEO-BRONCHITIS

Many parents know the terrifying sound at night of one of their children who has developed croup or, as it is called by physicians, acute laryngotracheo-bronchitis in the epidemic form. It is only a few years ago that there was reason for the great fear felt by parents because many of these patients choked to death.

In an address to the members of the Ontario Medical Association some months ago, Dr. M. E. Hobbs, Millbrook, stated that acute laryngotracheo-bronchitis in children in the epidemic form in which it has been seen for the past two or three years is a most terrifying and treacherous disease. Thus in the American Medical Review, Dr. Hobbs states further: "The general practitioner is often the one called in to see such a case and he must make the decision as to whether or not the child be sent to the hospital immediately." In these cases a conversation over the telephone may not be satisfactory and if any doubt is present the child should be seen at once, no matter what the hour."

It is now believed that most of these cases are caused by virus infection upon which some other infection due to other organs is also present. When the anxious parent is told that tracheotomy—opening up the windpipe—is the lifesaving treatment, he is naturally afraid of this "operation," yet we have read of a case in World War 2 in which a soldier, who had been an orderly in a modern hospital, made an opening in the throat of another soldier, inserted his fountain pen, and thus enabled the man to breathe until hospital treatment was available. If I remember correctly, this dramatic incident so enthused a wealthy man that he paid the expenses of the amateur surgeon through a medical school.

Dr. Hobbs states that the general public should be educated to the fact that the modern croupette through which is circulated a mixture of air and pure oxygen, with the proper temperature and humidity, offers one of the best safeguards in preventing obstruction to breathing. For instance, the death rate 20 years ago in this disease was about 30 per cent. "If all cases are now treated early and promptly and adequately, in hospital where needed, death rate is practically zero."

Modern antibiotics (disease killers such as penicillin and the sulfa drugs) have aided greatly in preventing complications that might be caused by the operation.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington, (NEA)—Millions of Americans with eyes and ears glued to television and radio are getting a day-in and day-out impression of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin at work.

They are getting a first-hand picture of the man that is more effective than any of the millions of words written about him.

Printed below are a number of highlights from the transcript of the Senate committee inquiry into the Private G. David Schine case. These are quotations from the statements and questions of the senator.

(On opening day, Senator McCarthy objected at the outset to having the specifications by Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens presented as "Filed by the Department of the Army.")

Senator McCarthy—"I do not have any respect for the civilians in the Pentagon who have been working night and day to attempt to shift an investigation of communism—Communist infiltration—into an investigation of one private in the Army."

(Cross-examining the first witness, Maj.-Gen. Miles Reber, the senator tried to ascribe a motive for the general's testimony and to intimate prejudice. The general's brother, Sam Reber, had been U. S. High Commissioner in Germany when G. David Schine and McCarthy—"Bob, don't give me that. You know that the (Fort Monmouth) hearings were suspended the day you or someone else filed your charges against Mr. Cohn, Mr. Carr and myself. You know that, don't you? Let's not be coy . . .")

(Shortly afterward) "Let's be a little more honest here. . . ."

(On objection of Committee Counsel Ray H. Jenkins, Senator McCarthy was forced to withdraw this question, but he got it on the record and on the air.)

(The senator's use of sarcasm and exaggeration was revealed when Secretary Stevens testified that David Schine himself suggested that he be made a special assistant in the secretary's office or to the Chief of Army Intelligence.)

Senator McCarthy—"A point of order, Mr. Chairman. I wonder if the Secretary would make the record clear as to whether I asked for an assistant secretaryship or an undersecretaryship for Mr. Schine?"

(When others are asking questions, Senator McCarthy insists on meticulous accuracy of phrasing.)

Senator McCarthy—"Mr. Chairman, if counsel in asking these questions will say, 'Have you learned that it was charged,' instead of saying, 'Have you learned that men were crowded like cattle in the back end of a truck,' I don't think the Inspector General—let me finish, please—I don't think the Inspector General has reported that young men were crowded into the back end of a truck like cattle. I think counsel should rephrase the question."

(Sample of the senator's questioning of Secretary Stevens.)

Senator McCarthy—"Bob, don't give me that. You know that the (Fort Monmouth) hearings were suspended the day you or someone else filed your charges against Mr. Cohn, Mr. Carr and myself. You know that, don't you? Let's not be coy . . .")

(Shortly afterward) "Let's be a little more honest here. . . ."

(Though the senator frequently breaks in when others are trying to talk, to make his "points of order," he demands undivided attention when he himself wants to say something.)

Senator McCarthy—" . . . Mr. Welch, please. I think the Secretary is intelligent enough to listen to me without your whispering in his ear. Will you desist until I get through with the question?"

(Highlights of an exchange with Assistant Secretary of Defense H. Struve Hensel.)

Senator McCarthy—" . . . I don't like to have men with combat records—and I can see they have outstanding combat records, apparently, from the ribbons they wear—I don't like to have them sitting here and lending dignity to Mr. Hensel by sitting at his left."

Secretary Hensel—"I think that remark was uncalled for, and Senator McCarthy ought to be asked to apologize for that. (Applause) I am serious, sir. . . ."

Senator Mundt—"Your statement will be incorporated in the record, but the chair has no power to enforce an apology on the part of any of the participants in this dispute. . . ."

Secretary Hensel—"You could request one, sir."

Senator McCarthy—"Not on my time, I assume."

Perplexities Exist Regarding Indochina, Because of Lack of Preparation on Dangers

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Geneva, May 7—No country on the side of the free world has had its public opinion prepared for the realistic truth about the dangers of the Indochina war to world peace. That is why there are perplexities both in Britain and the United States, as well as in France, in facing up to what Indochina truly means.

Because Indochina is a far-off land and seems remote from us all, it was easy for the opposition in the British Parliament to tie the hands of Prime Minister Churchill and for the opposition in the American Congress to disparage the great plan of Secretary of State Dulles to save Indochina and prevent a chain of circumstances that could bring on World War 3.

Slowly but surely, however, the facts are being revealed and, despite the delicacy of the issues, the two English-speaking allies are finding it absolutely necessary to get closer together in a common front against the Communist aggressors in southeast Asia.

Already the first steps in the American program—which should have taken place before the Geneva conference began but which got bogged down in the political fog of London—are being put into operation. Military staff officers of the United States, France and Great Britain are meeting at Singapore with military men from certain southeast Asian countries to map out possible steps to take effect if and when the political agencies of government have obtained the necessary approval from their respective national legislatures. This does not mean that these planned military measures will ever be carried out, but it does mean that the Communists are put on notice that such measures will be taken unless there is a peaceful settlement in Indochina with adequate safeguards and guarantees that peace will be maintained.

Such was the timely program of Secretary Dulles which was to have confronted the Communist delegations at Geneva. It is nothing less than tragic that Democratic senators should besmirch the valiant effort made by Secretary Dulles in behalf of the American people to avoid our involvement in the Indochina war.

President Eisenhower was telling the inside of the whole story when he said that it "was never expected that this collective-security arrangement (for southeast Asia) would spring into existence overnight," but that "there is a general sense of urgency" and "the fact that such an organization is in process of formation could have an important bearing upon what happens at Geneva during the Indo-China phase of the conference."

The big question now is whether the moral damage done by Britain's hesitation can be completely repaired, but American officials here are delighted that Britain and America are working together again. Now, if Democrats and Republicans in Congress would forget their partisanship and work together on these international questions, the chances of avoiding a third world war would improve immeasurably.

When the cabinet of Premier Laniel won a vote of confidence in the French Parliament, the hand of Foreign Minister Bidault here was strengthened. This means that the French can begin now to negotiate with the Communist delegations and see if a basis exists for an armistice with military safeguards. This may take some time but, if Peiping and Moscow know that behind the proposed armistice is a collective-security pact in the making, as Washington by Secretary Dulles, they may be less inclined to fritter away time in useless palaver.

The very emergence of solidarity on the allied side is in itself a salutary development, and the incidents of the last few days in London, as Washington and Paris demonstrate how important unity back home in every country on our side is to the success of the conference here.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, May 6—Louis Waldman, a New York lawyer of high prestige, has written his opinion of the so-called pre-trial examination which constitutes in New York and some other areas of the federal jurisdiction a disgraceful persecution of the citizen by the very judges who are sworn to administer justice. His opinion of this practice is bad. Politically, Mr. Waldman has no reason to support any campaign of mine. He is a Socialist and has been, for many years, a specialist in labor law, usually on the side of the unions. He is, however, noted for his intellectual honesty even on union matters in which some bigots might be forgiven as an occupational attitude. His condemnation of the pre-trial examination puts him at some peril in litigation before those federal judges who are not above malicious retaliation.

Mr. Waldman writes: "Your column in The New York Journal-American on Tuesday, April 27, and one of your columns published several weeks ago which criticized the practice of the Federal Courts in permitting almost unlimited examination before trial, is, in my opinion, fully justified by experience and the facts. Under this rule, a litigant with ample means can exhaust an adversary or his friends by harassment through extended examinations, bearing remotely if at all, on the issues of the litigation."

"This practice has, in some cases, worked great hardship and injustice."

"We lawyers often speak of reforms in the law and its procedures. But we rarely have an opportunity to hear from the public as to whether or not they think they are being helped by these supposed reforms. Your two columns attacking the unlimited pre-trial examinations are the first effective voice I have heard from a member of the public protesting against this comparatively recent change in the rules."

"It will interest you to know that the old practice in the New York state courts and in the courts of many other states, as well as in the federal courts, permitted an examination before trial only to elicit relevant, material and competent evidence which would be admissible at the trial itself. As an old-fashioned lawyer, I subscribe to that rule as useful and fair. Based on my own experience and the experience of many lawyers I know, the federal rule, which is rapidly being copied in New York and other states, seems to me to work greater injustice on litigants than the good which it was intended to accomplish."

"The vice in the present rule is that a litigant may examine his adversary and other persons not merely to obtain evidence that is admissible at the trial but on matters that may not be admissible at all. For the federal rule provides that 'it is no ground for objection (to a demand for records or information) that the testimony will be inadmissible at the trial if the testimony sought appears reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence.'"

"Under this broad rule, the sky is the limit whenever either party wishes to launch a fishing expedition into the past of the other, a particularly dangerous matter in litigation involving political, business or labor conflicts. I know many lawyers who have told me privately that they regard the present rule as oppressive and unfair. However, only if the public will effectively protest against the continuance of these rules can lawyers find sufficient basis to demand their revision."

"Of course, I need not tell you that I cannot agree with your strictures on lawyers. I have found over many years of close association with the fellow-lawyers of my profession that by and large their interest and active participation in the promotion of human liberty, civil rights and better administration of justice is far greater than that of comparable groups in our society, professional or otherwise."

This refers to my opinion that the law is a foul trade because the nature of the law and the tricks of court practice compel a lawyer with decent instincts to try to out-shyster the worst lest he forego a dirty but legal advantage. Moreover, knowing that this abuse of the pre-trial process is the sole responsibility of the judges who could correct it, but refuse to, the profession is disloyal to its trust in failing to fight for this reform. This is the special field of lawyers. But it comes only distantly within the general purview of the press. And the public, of course, has no means at all of uttering that effective protest which Mr. Waldman holds prerequisite to action by his profession.

I will say this, my analysis would indicate that the Russians have been much more afraid of us than we are of them, and their build-up has been a defensive build-up.

I feel the H-bomb and all new atomic weapons, in the long run, will have a greater influence toward peace than war.

Think It Through

By EDWARD F. HUTTON

Socialism is a "closed shop" and affects everybody who lives under that kind of system, whether he be laborer, businessman, farmer or housewife.

Mr. Hutton

the system a lot of people would like to see in America,—and which we must prevent at all costs.

Socialism is a "closed shop" because it tells YOU when to work, how fast to work, how much you can earn, how much you pay to keep Socialism alive.

Socialism puts the lid on production, artificially creates demand and supply, fixes prices and guarantees only a pittance in return.

Socialism, when it has effected its "closed shop," takes the final step and becomes the MASTER of Industry and the Free Enterprise System. Then everybody works for the Government and depends on the Government.

And that is like the Russian system, and the system a lot of people would like to see in America,—and which we must prevent at all costs.

This 'n' That

An honest mother cannot shirk. She has a full time job of work. She does not strike for higher pay; She simply plugs along all day. And often, far into the night, she ministers to pain or fright. An infant's smile... her task rewards. Her love is like unto the Lord's. Her patience... vast beyond compare. Her faith... a thing of beauty rare. And though we fall below the mark, she sees us shinning through the dark. And reads into our small success a glory that men cannot guess. For though our lives be mean and frail; her faith in us will never fail. And her excuses, through the years, have caused the angels countless tears. Dear Mother—not for just one day, but for all time... we humbly pray: 'Lord keep you, to the farthest star. And make us as you think we are.'—Karl Flaster.

Lost Time Drops

Albany, May 7 (AP)—Working time lost through labor disputes in New York state last year dropped 28 per cent below the 1952 level. The State Commerce Department reported today that 3,070,000 man-days were lost in 1953, compared with 4,280,000 the year before. It said the state's record was the best in the nation for the 13th straight year. Last year labor disputes in the state caused 22.9 man-days of idleness for each 10,000 man-days available in the labor force, compared with 32.5 for each 10,000 in 1952. The national average for 1953 was 26 man-days of idleness caused by labor disputes for each 10,000 man-days available.

BABSON on BUSINESS

New York City, May 6—The newspapers are discussing Geneva, London, and Paris in relation to Indo-China. It is interesting to note that the leading columnists and radio-television commentators have to say. But let me pass along the conclusions of a short, narrow alley in New York City—called "Wall Street." This little street goes haywire sometimes—but not often.

We cannot go by prices alone when the newspapers headline the financial news: "Highest Bond Prices of the Year"; or, "Highest Stock Prices Since 1929"; or, "Commodities Continue to Advance." For many investors have stocks and bonds which still show them a loss; while some farmers and manufacturers are selling their products below cost. Why this inconsistency?

As I have said before, the high stock prices are caused primarily by the thousands of Mutual Trust salesmen who are selling their Funds' shares all over the country. The money received for these Investment Trust stocks which you buy goes into securities selected by the Trust's managers. Most of this money is placed in a few "blue chip" nationally known stocks, perhaps in only 65 stocks selected from about 1,500 listed on the New York Stock Exchange. These 65 are used by the newspapers as the Dow-Jones stocks. What is said about these is true—they are very high. The rapidly growing Pension Funds are also causing present high prices for these 65 popular Wall Street stocks, even though many other stocks are going down.

Reason For High Prices
There, however, is another reason for high prices. Prices are high because Wall Street thinks that we are to direct a "shooting war" against the Chinese and threaten to use atomic bombs. Already we are supplying the Indo-China patriots and French with airplanes, guns, shells, etc., the same as the Chinese are supplying the Communists of Indo-China with war material without involving Russia. Our Defense Department argues that, as a last resort, we could also supply the Indo-China Army with atomic bombs, without involving Russia, or without starting World War 3. Neither Eisenhower nor Wall Street wants a World War 3 or a long Indo-China war. Both dread the use of atomic bombs by either the United States or Russia against the other. But no one wants our foot soldiers involved in another "Korea" fought with our troops. Hence, I believe that we will get the soldiers of Formosa, Korea, the Philippines, Australia, and other bordering nations—directly interested—to do the fighting while we supply the arms.

Wall Street Believes This Possible

If so, it would cause commodity prices to strengthen; it would increase employment, and it should result in a Republican Congressional victory this coming November. Under such conditions, Eisenhower could not balance the budget, but does Wall Street really want it balanced? Hence, notwithstanding the very high prices at which the 65 Dow-Jones stocks are now selling, Wall Street is bullish today.

I, therefore, make three forecasts:
(1) That Mr. Eisenhower will not ask Congress for permission to send foot soldiers into Indo-China, at least before the November elections.
(2) That the talk of using atomic bombs may so buck up the French and so scare the Chinese that they will all quit.
(3) That, instead of such a negotiated peace making the market go up, as peace should, Wall Street may see its pet 30 Dow-Jones Industrials go down before 1954 ends!

Scientists believe man is the longest lived mammal in the world.

A Column of Contrary Opinion

The McCarthy-Army controversy brings out in bold relief once again the sobering fact that the ideological conflict is the big thing in our lives today—but that it is being covered up by personality fights.

Let me get this over to you, because as I see it the ideological conflict throughout the world—including in the United States—is gaining momentum, rather than diminishing.

The threat to us lies in the fact that so few recognize it. Communism is an enemy to everything we hold dear in Americanism. Yet, the nation is being falsely and wickedly misled into looking upon McCarthyism rather than Communism as the evil to be eradicated. It makes no difference what one's opinion may be concerning the individual, Senator McCarthy. But what is making a vast difference to your future and mine is that opinions concerning McCarthy are being propagandized as being the all-important factor.

Taking sides on McCarthyism merely deflects people from recognizing the menace which confronts us from communism.

We are admonished not to get panicky over the H-bomb. Very little panic or hysteria over atom—or hydrogen-bomb warfare is noticeable among people I meet.

I wish that our President would counsel not to become hysterical over McCarthyism. Instead he tends to magnify it by indirect references. Numbers of our Senators and Representatives incline the same way, as we in Vermont know from the utterances of Senator Flanders, for example.

The greatest boon given to the Communists in recent months was the creation of the term "McCarthyism" which immediately caught on and became a popular and contagious "idea" about which to rally crowd appeal.

A most successful method of diverting attention from one thing to another is to create a more "contagious" idea. McCarthyism is diverting attention and thought from communism by cleverly making it the chief evil to be attacked. From a viewpoint of mass psychology certainly the build-up of McCarthyism—which has meant the playing down of communism—is one of the most devilishly clever propaganda victories of modern times (whether it was done knowingly or not).

When you get personalities involved it is far simpler to arouse hatred than over some abstraction like communism. So, to repeat, let's not confuse the idea of McCarthyism. You can dislike Joe McCarthy the individual as greatly as you wish—that is your privilege—but my argument is that communism still remains the "enemy" and McCarthyism merely a diversionary fetish.

What I cannot comprehend is why McCarthyism instead of communism is given the accent by our national leaders. It is common knowledge that the Communists' strategy is "to divert and divide." Yet here we are diverting attention from communism while at the same time people are becoming divided by McCarthyism.

It is time, in my contrary opinion, for a fireside chat on this real danger.

Certainly world conditions—and the appalling spectacle in the Washington investigation—make it necessary for us the people to think straight. And thinking straight on this question of communism apparently means more contrary thinking. The manner in which "the crowd" is following the propaganda line of the left-wingers, and well-wishers, and the do-gooders scares the life out of this Ruminator!

Maybe you ought to read the book recently published, "McCarthy and His Enemies" (Henry Regnery Company, Chicago). It is by William F. Buckley, Jr., and L. Brent Bozell. It is a completely documented story of many investigations by McCarthy. I suggest it because the majority opinion on the Senator is woefully riddled with emotionalism that is becoming a mania. Buckley and Bozell are pro-McCarthy—there is no arguing that—but they have done a well-balanced job considering their natural bias. The book is valuable from the standpoint of doing some thinking about the liberal and left-wing trends which are so evident in our society today. Being a Vermont reactionary—albeit a realistic one—the Ruminator is glad to see the McCarthy affair tackled in an analytical and documentary fashion. For those who castigate Joe McCarthy from an emotional viewpoint this book is a healthful antidote (if they'll read it!).

Wedding Reception Held at Capri Restaurant

Joan Bernice Hines, Donald Michael Ross Wed at St. Mary's

Against a setting of white snapdragons and palms, Miss Joan Bernice Hines, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Hines of 153 West Chester street, was married to Donald Michael Ross, son of Michael Ross of 332 Broadway and the late Anna Ross. The double ring ceremony, which took place in St. Mary's Church, Sunday at 2 p. m., was performed by the Rev. Edmund Netter of St. Eugene's Church, Yonkers.

Theodore Riccoboni was organist. Martin Kelly was the soloist for the ceremony. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle fashioned with a fitted bodice, long pointed sleeves and a bateau neckline. The full skirt with a plump of lace terminated in a circular train. Her full length French illusion veil was attached to a bridal cap of matching lace trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of spring flowers.

Miss Theresa McGowan, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a gown of maize nylon net styled with an Empire bodice and a handkerchief tiered floor length skirt. A draped stole and a matching half hat completed her ensemble. She carried a colonial bouquet of spring flowers.

The bridesmaids were Miss Alma Rosakranse and Miss Arlene Holmes of Kingston and Miss Joan Fassig and Miss Anne Franchie of the Bronx, N. Y. Their gowns were identical to that of the bridesmaid. Miss Rosakranse and Miss Holmes' gowns were of sea foam green, and the other two were of camellia pink. They wore scroll type headpieces and carried colonial bouquets of spring flowers.

Miss Margaret Hofbauer, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl. She wore a Kate Greenaway frock of white nylon net over white tulle and a full skirt over hoops. She wore a matching sweetheart bodice and carried a basket of spring flowers.

James Ross of Kingston was best man for his brother. The ushers were John Sangaline, Robert Conlin, and Anthony Fuoco of Kingston and William Houghtaling of Poughkeepsie. Stephen Diamond of Kingston was ringbearer. Following a reception held at the Capri, Port Ewen, for 200 guests, Mr. and Mrs. Ross left on a trip to Washington, D. C., and the southern states. For traveling the bride chose a beige cashmere suit with red accessories and a white orchid. On their return, they will make their home at 55 Garden street.

The bride is a graduate of Kingston High School and Fordham Hospital School of Nursing, Bronx, N. Y. She is employed at Kingston Hospital as a clinical instructor.

The bridegroom is also a KHS graduate, and served in the Army during World War 2, and the Air Force in the Korean War. He is now employed as a letter carrier in the U. S. Post Office, Kingston.

He is employed by the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation.

Mrs. John La Falce Honored

Good Taste Today

By EMILY POST

(Author of Etiquette, Children Are People, etc.)

AN INDEFINITE INVITATION

A reader tells me: "I met a woman whom I had not seen for months at the house of a mutual friend, and she asked me to visit her some time. I told her that I would have a day off two weeks from the day and that perhaps we could get together then at her house in the suburbs. No definite plans were made and as I heard nothing further from her I did not go. When I saw her again she said that she waited for me all that day and was very disappointed when I did not turn up. Wasn't it up to her to call me and confirm the invitation?"

As you said "perhaps" and nothing more definite was said by either of you, I think you were right in not going to her house without further word from her.

Positions of Salad Fork and Knife

Dear Mrs. Post: In our home economics class the other day the question came up as to where the salad fork should be placed when setting the table. Some thought it should be placed on the outside of the dinner fork while others thought it should be on the right of the dinner fork, nearer the plate. Which is correct?

Answer: Salad being the last course for which implements are set on the table, this fork is put next to the plate at the left side. If you use a salad knife, it is put next to one at the right side of the plates.

It Is His First Marriage

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please advise me of the proper procedure for my forthcoming marriage? I am a widow with two children. My fiancé has never been married before and has a great many friends he would like to invite to a wedding reception (approximately 175 guests). Would a reception of this size be in good taste for a second marriage? I would like to comply with his wish, but don't want to do anything that could be criticized.

Answer: Since it is his first marriage, I think including all his friends would be entirely proper and not subject to criticism.

What should be served at a formal dinner: a buffet lunch or supper? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Her leaflet E-25, "Menus for Every Occasion," will help you. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Arthur Fiedler's Boston Pops Will Give Concert Here

ARTHUR FIEDLER

Described in a recent issue of Good Housekeeping magazine as "the busiest, and probably the happiest, and almost surely the most popular conductor in our land," Arthur Fiedler will bring his Boston Pops Orchestra to Kingston next winter for members of Community Concert Association. The orchestra will be one of three programs in the series for which memberships are being sought this week, May 2 through 8. More than 1,000 members are being solicited by workers in order to make the season a success.

Anyone may join Community Concerts simply by paying the annual membership fee to a worker or at headquarters in the Governor Clinton Hotel before 5 p. m. Saturday, May 8. Admission to all concerts is by membership card only.

The article went on to say, "At fifty-nine he is a dapper, mustachioed, silver-gray fellow with the charm of a Parisian, the drive of a New Yorker, and the accent of Harvard Yard. He talks quickly, moves quickly, thinks quickly and combines an absolutely prodigious capacity for work with a natural bent for publicity that makes boards of trustees cry for him."

He was born in the Back Bay section of Boston, attended the Boston Latin School and after completing his studies at Berlin's

Royal Academy of Music, he returned to Boston to take his place in the second violin section of the Boston Symphony. Later he switched to the viola section where he played for 11 years. Then he founded the Boston Esplanade Concerts which take over for the summer months after the Pops season. Then in 1930 the Pops asked him to be their conductor. In his late 40's considered one of Boston's most eligible bachelors, he married Ellen Bottomley, the girl across the street, and they have three children.

Fiedler also is famous in Boston as a volunteer fireman and the story goes that he bolted his tailor's shop once, when he heard the siren scream and ran down Beacon street, one basted sleeve flying free.

His music seems to be enjoyed by everyone. As is written, "They play everything, play it well, and everybody loves them." The programs are in a lighter vein than the usual symphony program although plenty of excerpts from symphonies and classical music remains.

Public Invited to Program
Branch 125, Workman's Circle, invites the public to a talk by Sam Gaber, director of Jewish Community Center, Sunday at 8 p. m. at Agudas Achim Vestry Hall. Mr. Gaber will speak on the Jewish Distribution Committee and Labor Committee, and their work in salvaging human beings and refugees from all over the world. Picture will also be shown.

Miss Joyce Halloran Will Accept Award On Television Program

Academy of St. Ursula students have brought two honors to their school according to announcements received today. Miss Patricia O'Reilly is the winner of a commendation prize in the essay contest sponsored by the Sons of the American Revolution, State of New York, on the subject, The Character of George Washington as a Determining Factor in the Revolutionary War.

The other award, the result of essays, oratorical contests and civic club activities, is the George Washington Honor Medal Award, presented to the Academy by Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge. Miss Joyce Halloran will appear on a special television program on station WRGB-TV Schenectady, at 5:45 p. m. Sunday, to receive the honor on behalf of her school.

Richard H. Peltz, vice president of Freedoms Foundation, and J. S. Mead of White Plains, legal counsel for Freedoms Foundation, will make the presentations to the 15 Schenectady area individuals and organizations.

Miss O'Reilly's commendation prize of a check of $5 and a certificate will be awarded at graduation at the school, June 6. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William O'Reilly of 55 West Chestnut street, and a senior at the academy, she will attend college next year.

The Freedoms Foundation Award, given "for outstanding work during 1953 in helping to bring about a better understanding of the American Way of Life," was based on students' participation in events to November 11, 1953. Among these were speeches given by students in oratorical contests, including the American Legion contest, January 1953, and the CYO contest in March of the same year.

The CYO contest included speeches on the Bishop's Statement of 1952, and the Holy Father's Christmas Message. Miss Halloran, a senior, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Halloran, participated in many competitions, winning the county CYO contest in 1953, and placing second in the New York Archdiocese CYO competition this year.

A picture of Miss Nancy Demski, second year student, and a review of her activities with the Civics Club at the school, which appeared in The Young Catholic Miss, a magazine, was in part responsible for the prize to her school. Chosen as the Catholic Miss of the Month for April, 1953, Miss Demski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Demski of 72 Pine Grove avenue, led the group with her outstanding contributions.

Credit during the past year for award-winning activities also is due alumnae of the school. Included are Miss Clara Lewis, Miss Eileen Conway and Miss Kathleen O'Reilly, cousin of the prize winner, and Miss Patricia Young, who is now working in Washington, D. C. The other alumnae are in their first year at college.

Democrats Toss

declared the Eisenhower administration has been "caught bluffing by our enemies" and this country now stands in danger of being "left naked and alone in a hostile world."

Rep. Sam Rayburn (Tex.), House minority leader, said the people heard a lot about a "mess" in 1952 "and you are hearing a great deal more now." He said Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) is the "problem" of the Republicans, not the Democrats, and declared that if the principals in the McCarthy-Army scrap were Democrats, all Republicans and a majority of the newspapers would be sane.

"This is the biggest mess that Washington has ever witnessed," Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic presidential candidate in 1942, sent a message predicting that the Republicans will have "considerable experience as a minority after November of 1954."

Stevenson couldn't resist the temptation to wisecrack about the "age in investigation" by reminding the Democrats that he too had just fallen victim "to a probe," a reference to his kidney operation. He himself was not able to attend the banquet because of the operation.

Miss Margaret Truman sat at the head table between Sen. Symington (D-Mo.), a member of the Senate subcommittee now hearing the McCarthy-Army controversy, and James Carey, secretary-treasurer of the CIO. Truman and Dean Acheson, his secretary of state, were given standing ovations when introduced.

Miss Martini is a graduate of the class of 1951 of Kingston High School, and her fiancé, of the class of 1949. He served two years in the marine corps.

Communion Breakfast To Be Held Sunday

The breakfast will follow immediately after in the K of C Council Home. One of the largest turnouts ever in the history of the affair is foreseen by Charles H. Trice, P.G.K., chairman, since the principal speaker will be the Rev. John J. Drew, O. M., who recently returned to this country after spending five years in the Maryknoll Missionary field in China.

At last word, there were a few reservations obtainable by contacting the Council Home.

The Rev. Patrick Martin officiated at the ceremony which preceded a nuptial Mass. A reception was held in the Plaza Casino, S. I. The bride, escorted by her father, wore a white satin gown fashioned with an overskirt of tulle falling into a train. A sequin studded tulle headpiece secured the fingertip veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of stock falling from pearlized orange blossoms.

Miss Kathleen MacDonald was her sister's maid of honor. She wore an orchid tulle gown with tiers of nylon net, a headpiece in orchid and carried a basket of orchid and yellow flowers. The Misses Ruth Cowhey of Ulster Park, sister of the bridegroom, and Doris Casey of S. I., cousin of the bride, were bridesmaids. They wore yellow tulle gowns with tiers of nylon net with matching headpieces, and carried baskets of orchid and yellow flowers.

James R. Cowhey of White Plains was best man for his brother. The ushers were J. Donald and Kenneth MacDonald, brothers of the bride.

Upon their return from a wedding trip to Washington, D. C. and Virginia, the couple will live in Grant City.

An alumna of St. John's Villa Academy, the bride is also a graduate of the Mandl School for Medical Assistants, N. Y. She is employed as a laboratory X-ray technician for the medical department of the New York Telephone Company, N. Y.

Mr. Cowhey an alumnus of Curtis High School, S. I., received a bachelor of arts degree from State University Teachers College, New Paltz, and a master of arts degree from Long Island University, Brooklyn. CONSTIPATED?

"I can't afford to lose any time at work. But when I was constipated, I just couldn't work because no laxative gave me the relief I wanted."

"Then a friend told me about Sal Hepatica. So I took some the next time I woke up with that headache, lousy feeling due to constipation. And, let me tell you, it was just what I was looking for. Why I felt like my old self again within about an hour!"

Yes, take sparkling Sal Hepatica before breakfast and feel fine again... usually within an hour. Or, take it in the evening one-half hour before supper and feel fine again by bedtime! Sweetens sour stomach, too! So keep Sal Hepatica handy in your medicine chest.

High School Nine Defeats Port Jervis on Reis' Four Hitter, 7-2

Southpaw Ace Fans 10 For Maroon's 2nd Win

The pre-season pitching chart held firm for Kingston High for the second straight time yesterday in the deep freeze known as municipal stadium.

Frank Reis unlimbered his southpaw fireball for the first time and throttled Port Jervis High on four hits, 7-2, as the Maroons scored their second win to tie Newburgh Academy for the DUSO lead. Reis walked four and fanned 10.

Reis' wildness in spots and a debatable call by Umpire Abe Masci in the first inning robbed the young lefty of a shutout. Reis also added a booming triple in the sixth, one of six Kingston hits off Lee Ryder and Dick Harford.

Score in First

With two out in the first Bill Britt and Bob Eccleston worked a double steal on which Britt appeared to be a dead duck at third base. Umpire Masci waved him safe and drew a loud protest from the Kingston bench. Reis then walked Jack Drake to load the sacks and Harford to force in Britt.

In the seventh Reis walked Fred Ropke with one out and it developed into the second run. Britt followed with a double and Ropke crossed on an infield out. Bob Fay singled Ronnie Ashdown across with Kingston's first run in the third and Bob Sheltner drilled a two-run single to left accounting for Bill Haber and Fay for a 3-1 margin.

Walks to Brodhead and Bob Maines and Johnny Turck's scratch single loaded the sacks with none out in the fourth. Reis grounded into a DP at second and Turk scored for a 4-1 lead.

Two Long Triples

Kingston descended relief pitcher, Ryder, for two long triples, and a trio of runs in the sixth.

Spike Turk lashed a one-out single to right and Skip Brodhead followed with a booming triple to left center. The ball almost rolled up the embankment well over 400 feet away, the longest Kingston clout of the 1934 campaign. Bob Rondar was safe on a fielder's choice and a moment later Reis aided his own cause with another blast of considerable authority—a triple to right center. That scored Rondar with the seventh run. The Maroons re-loaded the bases but Fay ended the rally with a sharp grounder to first.

Press Box Notes

Reis stranded six men in the first inning due to wildness but he was sharp after that. He had two Ks in the first, third and sixth frames and got Port's cleanup hitter, Jim Rinkavaga, the football ace, three times running. Ralph Frederick, Port Jervis spits, ed, make the long trek hoping for a Port upset. Paul Giannuzzi, the shortstop, throws as well as any KHS shortstop of the past several years. Umpire Masci was involved in several hot calls. Heavy laden infield at stadium makes DP almost impossible. Kingston (2-0), Newburgh (2-0) and Middletown (1-0) share DUSO League lead, NFA due here next Thursday. Port Jervis (0-3) and Poughkeepsie is (2-0). Shortstop Bill Britt made a spectacular one-handed catch to rob Bob Sheltner of a hit in the first inning.

Bill Kuehn Cracks 690; Grimaldi Hits 278 Solo

Bill Kuehn's 690 blast on alleys 3 and 4 last night, highlighted one of the heaviest scoring sessions in Ferraro Major League history.

The terrific blasting ranged from Kuehn's performance to Mannie Colao's 643 on the not-so-easy 13 and 14 planks.

Kuehn missed the coveted "700" circle by a strike as he reeled off solos of 245, 234 and 211. Colao fired 198, 241, 204.

Old Capital Motors and Frank Grimaldi shared the spotlight with Kuehn. The sub-anchor rallied from 159-192 to close out with a 278 smash. The other four members of the team went over 200 to rack up a 1109 game. Angie Ferraro furnished 213, Tom Carlino 201, Tom Amato 202, and Jackie Ferraro 215.

Weishaupt Slams 664
In between there was some roasting pocket blasting. Larry Weishaupt rapped 199-220-245 for 664 and Harold Broskie tripled 213-232-216-661 on 7 and 8. They sparked Tony's Pizzeria to a 1019-1017-941-2977 slam. On the same pair of planks, Larry Petersen Jr. ripped 194-233-206-633 and Bill Lawrence hammered 157-216-241-614 as Petersen rolled 1013-2901.

A. Ferraro Rolls 661
Even 5 and 6 didn't escape the wrath of the hotshots in their next-to-the-last outing of the season. Angie Ferraro pounded 661, with 200-248-213, and Frank Grimaldi socked high single of the night (278) and 621.

Daisy Schatzel posted his 603 (218-212-173) on alleys 13 and 14. Whitey Crispell racked up 200-234-215-649 and Jimmy Secreto 231-193-202-626 on alleys 1 and 2. There were four near-misses, too, as Buster Ferraro slammed 216-592 and Bobby Jones 213-395 on 3 and 4. Cliff Davis posted 216-594 on 7 and 8, the dream drive, and Bill Murray powered 218-205-594 on 9 and 10.

Robinson Fires 583
Elwood Robinson unloaded 246-585, Len Freer 204-589. Other high scorers included Ken Joseph 570, Johnny Ferraro 213-577, Dick Howard 233-576, and George Robinson 570.

FEARLESS — These people, waiting for a bus in London, England, don't seem very worried about the threat of an Indian invasion. But they have probably guessed it's just Joanne Blackwell, a 21-year-old ballet teacher, dressed up for the St. George's Day pageant.

National League workouts continue today and all next week at Kingman Field.

Boros' 68 Leads Ardmore Open

Ardmore, Okla., May 7 (AP)—Former National Open champion Julius Boros of Mid Pines, N. C., shot a two-under-par 68 yesterday for the first round lead in the rich Ardmore Open golf tournament.

The Waco Turners, sponsors of the event, dished out about $4,000 in bonus money for eagles, birdies and chip-ins in yesterday's play and the best guess was that the final prize money will eclipse last year's $47,000.

Meeting Postponed

The annual KWBA meeting and elections, originally scheduled for May 17, have been postponed until Sunday, May 24, Secretary Helene Mollenhauer announced today.

A total of $5,000 in cash and merchandise prizes will be awarded in five stock outdoor classes for the first annual 60-mile Thousand Islands outdoor marathon to be run on the St. Lawrence river June 13.

My greatest shot put me in a playoff which I lost, but still gave me the thrill of pulling off a big one.
It came on the last hole of the Los Angeles Open in 1951, played on the Riviera Country Club course. Tommy Bolt and Jackie Burke were the leaders as I went to the 18th hole. I needed to pick up a stroke to catch them and it was the final round.
The hole is a 440-yard, par 4 and is regarded as one of the finest finishing holes in golf. Trapped to the left and right with a bank behind the green, it is a thorough test of golf.
My drive was down the middle and for my second shot, I selected a 3-wood, keeping in mind my need for that birdie if I was to gain even a tie.
I hit a real golf shot, laying the ball within a foot of the cup. There is nothing sweeter than salvaging defeat—if only for a time—and this shot made me feel like a new man. I knew how Lew Worsham felt when he holed out with his famous wedge shot at Chicago's Tam O'Shanter last year.
I holed the putt for a birdie 3 and tied for the lead.
The next day, I'm sad to report, I lost the play-off. Bolt took first money.
But that big wood shot still was in my mind and I haven't forgotten it yet.

Hot Putter Paces Greenbrier Open

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., May 7 (AP)—"Your score is bound to be good if you're putting good and I putted real well," Joe Taylor logically explained for taking the first round lead in the Greenbrier Open yesterday.

He also put his finger on why Sam Snead came in second a stroke behind Taylor's 65 on the par 70 old White course.

Snead can hit the ball as far as any golfer but again discovered that tapping it a short distance on the green counts the same. It took him three putts to get down on the 13th hole and a bogey five when a par would have earned the stroke necessary to tie Taylor.

Shawnee Medalist

Shawnee-on-Delaware, Pa. May 17 (AP)—Medalist honors in the 31st annual Shawnee Invitation golf tournament belonged to Leslie Fish, a Shawnee Inn and Country Club member, with a two over par 74. Fish paced a field of 138 starters yesterday including Olin Czerochi, Bayside, L. L. former winners of the tournament. Match play competition started today.

Newark, N. J.—Irvin Steen, 147½, San Diego, Calif., outpointed Tommie Dixon, 152½, New York, 8.

Dog Tied to Pole
Officers Thomas Tomshaw and Floyd Krom reported to police headquarters at 6:55 a. m., today
what was listed as a "mean trick."
Someone, they said, had tied a dog to a pole in front of the VFW building on Delaware avenue.
They released it, the report said.
